

2018 7th Annual FNA North Central Region Conference: The Role of the Nurse in Emergency Preparedness

Saturday, April 14, 2018

8:00 am – 4:30 pm

North Florida Retirement Village

Tower Club Ballroom

8000 NW 27th Blvd.

Gainesville, FL 32606

Register at www.floridanurse.org

Registration

FNA Members: $50

Non-members: $75

Students (Pre-licensure): $25

Registration includes 6 contact hours, continental breakfast, featured speakers, poster session, and lunch.

ONLINE Registration closes on Monday, April 9, 2018. Registration fees increase by $15 at door.

Cancellation policy:

No refunds after Monday, April 5, 2018

Register at www.floridanurse.org under the Conferences Tab

Contact Hours: Six (6) To be requested from FNA Provider (#50-3103).

Natural Disasters can strike at any given time, with or without warning. 2017 was a prime example when Hurricane Irma covered almost the entire state of Florida. As a result, counties were searching for healthcare professionals to man shelters and to assist with the storm's aftermath. This conference will address legal, ethical, and professional considerations for the role of the nurse in emergency preparedness. How can we as nurses be better prepared in the case of emergencies and become stakeholders in finding solutions to national, state, and local challenges before another disaster strikes?

Abstract Submissions for Poster Session

Contact Stacia Hays at staciamarie@bellsouth.net or Vicki Sumagpang at vsumagpang@floridanurse.org.

Deadline for abstract submission is March 10, 2018

Please note - Hotel arrangements are on your own.

Closest hotels to venue are:

Best Western Gateway Grand
4200 NW 97th Blvd
Gainesville, FL 32606
Reservation Line: 352-331-3336

Doubletree by Hilton Gainesville
3726 SW 40th Blvd
Gainesville, FL 32608
Reservation Line: 353-375-2400

